Four years in art school, the premise...learn art. Can teachers really do that; teach art? Well there were slides, thousands and thousands of slides, and we nodded off. Somebody somewhere must have presumed that all those slides would teach art. There were critiques; it certainly seemed like there were thousands and thousands of critiques. In them we were informed that we had failed to make successful art. We smiled and thought 'good point, I'll certainly make that a concern in my next piece'. We smiled and clenched our teeth and thought, 'It's absurd how these morons can stare at my work for thirty seconds, open their mouths, and proceed to reveal that they have no idea what the hell they're talking about'. In the event we find out we have made successful art we just smile...our minds going blank with elation, our teachers, without question, are the best. Somebody somewhere must have presumed that all those critiques would teach art. There were books, thousands and thousands of books. We read, we were tested, we forgot...well we forgot most of it anyway. Somebody somewhere must have presumed that all those books would teach art. O.K., maybe all the slides, critiques, and books can't teach art...then how did it happen? As you flip through these pages you'll see how. All those faces, all those students, all that community, all that energy, all that free food at the openings. We had alot more than slides, critiques and books, like the song says, 'We got each other'. And so seniors, you will be dearly missed, and I would venture to say that you will miss all that you are leaving behind. But hey, don't be sad after all you've got this great book, and you can come back and score some cheap Chablis and Brie at an opening anytime. In fact we'll look forward to it.

Alma Mater

College of Art, thy sons and daughters
Gathering now from far and near,
Render thus with song of gladness
Tribute to thy name most dear.
Hopeful! joyous! we assemble
Seeking truth as our reward.
Thou dost mark each hidden talent,
Nurture well each gift of God.

Here 'mid sweet association
We have sought to understand
Beauty's place in God's creation
Nature's choicest gift to man.
Errant brush and faltering pencil
Trained, will lead to richer life;
Character, like clay, is moulded
Only thus through wholesome strife.

Daughter, loved of State and Nation,
May our faith in thee abide.
May thy noble inspiration
Be for evermore our guide.
Till we bear thy precious story
O'er our land from East to West
Consecrating to thy glory
Heart and hand in Service blest.

Desire brought us here. To be certain, different desires, yet desire nevertheless. Now, to become masters of expression or to master the art of design, we must replace desire with something that can never be replaced. Passion.

I believe in Art as a great uplifting force to humanity and as a medium through which the finest human emotions are expressed. As a student of Art, I have faith in Art and in its universal appeal to mankind. I will try, in my study of Art, to spread a love for truth and beauty so that others may know and experience for themselves this creative force in their lives.

The artist, in order to achieve, must master not only technique, but must also express order, harmony, and loyalty. These qualities I realize I must develop in my school years if I would be equipped for my life work.

This is my school. So that it may offer to all equal opportunity and freedom for creative work.

I will keep its rules.

I will uphold its standards and support its policies.

I will promote and protect its ideals.

I will be loyal to my own talent and to the talents of my fellow students.

Dear Diary:
Today I walked to the Whitney and watched the installation of my retrospective exhibition bought a bottle of Thunderbird on the way it was half gone when I got there the assholes dropped my best piece the putters welded together and broke one off supposed to be such a good museum why let such assholes move the work? I had to leave and get another bottle half-way through that about 9:00 I got sick fast and heavy, just flashed all over my pants and the floor, don't know just haven't got the stomach I used to, it happens. Show is ½ way decent though.
